Trelales PTA is a fundraising and registered charitable group whose aim is to raise awareness and much needed funds for the school. The group has no say in how the school is run and no official role in managing the school budgets, training, education or setting school policies.

We are a group of volunteers who have something to offer (time, expertise, a helping hand) in an attempt to get families, children and friends involved in raising the profile of the school and raising much needed funds at the same time. If you're able to help in anyway, please don't hesitate to contact us, or come along to the next PTA meeting.
